

About The Tokyo Foundation

The Tokyo Foundation aims at effecting change for a better world by engaging in policy research, based on which it formulates solid and innovative policy proposals, and by nurturing leaders with a global perspective. Founded in 1997, it is an independent and impartial not-for-profit organization that operates through an endowment from motorboat racing, with support from the Nippon Foundation and the motorboat racing industry.

© 2009 The Tokyo Foundation

All rights reserved

The Tokyo Foundation
The Nippon Foundation Bldg. 3rd Floor
1-2-2 Akasaka, Minato-ku, Tokyo 107-0052 Japan
TEL +81-3-6229-5503 (Scholarship Division)
scholarship@tkfd.or.jp
www.tokyofoundation.org/en/
www.sylff.org

2007 SYLFF Regional Forum Selected Papers on "Human Rights and Creative Leadership"

ISBN 978-4-86027-004-9

Printed in Japan

C O N T E N T S

Preface	4
Foreword Professor Yozo Yokota	6
Contentious Politics and Human Rights: Who Benefits? Ritajyoti Bandyopadhyay (Jadavpur University, India)	11
Reclaiming Human Rights: The Right to Food and the Role of Organic Agriculture Alice Beban (Massey University, New Zealand)	31
SMEs—The Creative Leaders of India: In Search of an Enabling Environment Duke Ghosh (Jadavpur University, India)	43
Development of Regional Human Rights Regime: Prospects for and Implications to Asia Jina Kim (Fletcher School of Law and Diplomacy, Tufts University, U.S.A.)	57
Universal Human Rights and Sustainable Globalization: Reaching for a Castle in the Sky Séverine Minot (York University, Canada)	103
The Protection of Indigenous Knowledge Related to Biodiversity: The Role of Databases Yovana Reyes Tagle (University of Helsinki, Finland)	131
Judicial Leadership in International Human Rights: Developments, in the Law of State Responsibility in Human Rights Nirmalan Wigneswaran (Fletcher School of Law and Diplomacy, Tufts University, U.S.A.)	147
Author Profiles	170