

A U T H O R   P R O F I L E S

Ritajyoti Bandyopadhyay is a doctoral SYLFF Fellow at Jadavpur University, Kolkata, India. Recently he has been selected as a principal candidate for the Fulbright-Nehru Doctoral and Professional Research Fellowship for 2009 to 2010 to continue his research in an American university. Ritajyoti's research addresses histories of mass political formation and urban modernity in post-colonial India.
E-mail: ritajyoti1981@yahoo.com

Alice Beban obtained her master's degree in development studies (distinction) from the Institute of Development Studies, Massey University, Aotearoa New Zealand. She has research interests in food politics and international rural development. Currently, she is a researcher at the Development Resource Centre, a non-profit organization providing information on international development and global issues.
E-mail: alice_beban@yahoo.co.nz

Duke Ghosh is a director at Bitscrape Solutions Pvt. Ltd. Duke's doctoral research focuses on the analysis and management of risks associated with the financing of small and medium-size enterprises (SMEs) in India. Duke is a SYLFF Fellow at Jadavpur University. He is also a visiting faculty member at the Indian Institute of Foreign Trade, Indian Institute of Technology where he teaches finance.
E-mail: duke.ghosh@yahoo.com

Jina Kim is a Ph.D. candidate in international relations at The Fletcher School of Law and Diplomacy, Tufts University, U.S.A. Her three major fields of study include international security studies, political theory, and international organizations. She received her B.A. in political science and diplomacy at Pusan National University and her M.A. in international studies at Yonsei University, Korea.
E-mail: jinakimkorea@gmail.com

Séverine Minot is a sociology Ph.D. candidate at York University, Toronto, Canada, and a research fellow at Vietnam National University Center for Asia-Pacific Research. Her work is financed by SYLFF and the Social Sciences and Humanities Research Council of Canada. Her research is centered on politico-cultural processes and trans-nationalism.
E-mail: seve88@yorku.ca

Yovana Reyes Tagle is a research fellow at the Department of Private Law, University of Helsinki, Finland. Her special fields of interest are World Trade Organization (WTO) law, international trade and regional economic integration, and indigenous peoples' intellectual property rights.
E-mail: yovana.reyes@helsinki.fi

Nirmalan Wigneswaran is a Ph.D. candidate at The Fletcher School of Law and Diplomacy, Tufts University, U.S.A., researching institutional approaches to discrimination in the international trade law and human rights law regimes. He is working as a state counsel at the Attorney General's Department of Sri Lanka.
E-mail: nirmalanw@yahoo.com

Professor Yozo Yokota
Dr. Yokota is a professor of international law at Chuo Law School, Chuo University, Tokyo, Japan, as well as special adviser to the Rector of the United Nations University, a member of ILO Committee of Experts on the Application of Conventions and Recommendations, and president of the Center for Human Rights Affairs. He is one of the leading scholars in the field of human rights. His research interests include public international law, international human rights law, international economic law, law of international organizations, law of international development, United Nations studies, and Japanese foreign policy. He is currently serving on the Board of Directors and the Scholarship Programs Advisory Board at the Tokyo Foundation.